

06/17/15 - Father's Day 2015 Menu

This year I am making a Father's Day breakfast. Life is more complicated and as the family grows, some family have other family to go to later in the day so breakfast seemed appropriate.

Since a baking frenzy has possessed me of late I have been freezing many goodies that I think will defrost and crisp back up successfully.

Sharing the menu seemed a good thing to do. Just remember I overdo everything and so you could cut a lot of this and still have a lovely breakfast party.
