

10/02/11 - Happy New Year

I hope you all enjoyed these last couple of days. For me it was a couple of days of extreme adrenalin carrying me through, the menu preparation, all of the arrangements, and re-evaluating my goals, my values, my direction in life. The New Year has truly begun with a burst of activity, I wish all of you and your families the health, fortitude, and prosperity to carry out all of our dreams and plans. L'shana Tova

Baklava

Related Posts

Spinach Fritada, Sephardic Style

-

Dateline: Two Days Before Rosh Hashanah

-

Rosh Hashanah Pictures

-

Happy and Healthy Rosh Hashanah

-

Passover 2012 Wrap Up

+ Share / Save f t ↗